Los Angeles Herald

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

SUNDAY, FEB. 14, 1875.

Graders Coming.

A dispatch was received yesterday notifying the construction department of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad of a large shipment of Chinese laborers from San Francisco on the steamer Mohongo. They will be forwarded to the summit in Cajon Pass. Another shipment of upwards of 100 men, which is ordered to immediately follow, will be used upon the line between this city and Santa Monica. A contract was closed yesterday afternoon with SMITH & Sons to begin grading immediately on the Truxton landing and work rapidly this way. feb17

The Prospect Brightening.

"Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on." The determination and activity manifested by Engineer CRAWFORD and those in his employ is encouraging to the friends of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. The company have opened offices over TEMPLE & WORKMAN'S Bank and are going to work with a will. We shall not be surprised to hear that several miles of road bed is completed out from Truxton within the next ten days and that at least fifteen miles of the road is surveyed and located during the same time. Everything is moving on finely and we hope every one will encourage the enterprise by taking stock. They will thus show that they appreciate the magnitude and importance of the work and are desirous of encouraging it to the utmost of their power. feb17

He Will Not Resign.

The New York Herald is pursuing an absurd course in filling column after column with demands on President GRANT to resign. The President belongs to the class who filled the railroad offices of which the Superintendent said, few die and none resign. He will fight it out to the end of his term, and he is right in doing so. The most enthusiastic friends of the President must admit that he has made mistakes, but what man in his position has avoided making them? We are not sure that the President has been guilty of an intentional wrong. He pursues plans and policies that are undoubtedly wrong, but does he know them to be so? We may condemn a man's act without impeaching his motive. We cannot endorse many acts of President GRANT's administration, but we do not propose to denounce him as a fool or a rascal in consequence, nor shall we try to blackguard him into resigning. feb17

The Queen City of the Pacific.

A wealthy mining speculator of San Francisco, in conversation with one of our leading citizens the other day remarked that there was no reason in the world why, next to San Francisco, Los Angeles should not become the greatest mining center on the Pacific Coast. There is more than mere talk in these words. They embody a probability neither remote nor difficult. This city is the nearest eligible point to what, in the opinion of those of experience and judgment, will soon develop into the richest and most extensive mining region yet discovered in this State or that of Nevada. There is much here to attract men of great wealth and induce them to make this their home, and the homes of such men means highly cultured grounds and palatial residences. With her genial climate, her rich soil, her vast mining resources and her beautiful surroundings Los Angeles will soon become a city of wealth and population beyond the most extravagant expectations of the most sanguine of her present residents. We expect to see the day when Temple Block is converted into a stock exchange, and Los Angeles will have her California street on which business activity will be no less active than on the California street of San Francisco. We expect to be able to point out the residences of HAYWARD, SHARON, JONES and others of San Francisco's wealthiest citizens who have left their foggy, hazy hills and her seas and made their homes in the Queen City of the Pacific. feb17

Los Angeles. We expect to see this valley one broad forest of orange, lemon and lime groves. We expect to see at least one hundred thousand people in a valley which now contains less than thirty thousand, and we expect to see the city of Los Angeles grow, expand, spread out, until land we now speak of as farms in the country will be covered with solid blocks of houses. feb17

The Right of Opinion.

The HERALD has lost a subscriber. We are depressed; and as we know that in an union there is strength, we shall provide ourselves with a large one and weep—if we can. A gentleman—a respected gentleman—has stopped his weekly HERALD, and all because we have shown ourselves so disloyal as to disapprove the Administration's policy toward Louisiana. We do not know that the respected gentleman runs a small Postoffice or that he expects and Indian Agency appointment; but we do know that the President ought to do something handsome for a man who foregoes reading the HERALD for his sake. But a few words to our respected subscriber. The HERALD does not endorse the Administration's reconstruction policy, and it is independent enough to say so. We know that nine-tenths of the people do not endorse that policy, and when they have an opportunity to say so at the ballot-box, they speak as with one voice. This beautiful policy has been played for the last six years, and we now have a bill in Congress which proposes to declare martial law throughout the South. Is this not sufficient evidence that we have had enough of this magnificent policy? Perhaps our respected ex-subscriber is one of a now sadly decimated tribe that believes whatever President GRANT does is right! We know our friend will borrow the HERALD of his neighbor and read it, and we therefore write for his benefit that the HERALD is an independent paper—one of the most independent papers in the State. It is neither a toadying worshipper nor an enemy of President GRANT, nor is it the tool or organ of any party, ring or clique. It endorses what it believes to be right and condemns what it believes to be wrong, and it has the independence to express its sentiments for or against, no matter whether it be to endorse or condemn the action of President GRANT or that of a town beadle. feb17

A Bold Move.

With the people, all thought or consideration of the third term seems to have passed away with the last Fall elections, which were such an emphatic rebuke to the ambitious pretensions of President GRANT that a less determined person than he would have at once abandoned all hope of maintaining himself in the Chief Executive chair during the term of his natural life. The third term was one of the main issues of those elections, and the opposition to the proposition was so decisively and unmistakably expressed that its advocates, both journals and individuals, ceased urging the measure and its discussion was no longer one of the topics of the day. Recent developments at Washington, however, indicate that the President and his intimate friends and advisers were not among those who bowed to the will of the people. They were baffled, but not defeated. The third term snake was scotched but not killed. The determination of the President to force the measure is becoming more apparent day by day. It is now believed that the Louisiana trouble was created and SHERIDAN sent to New Orleans in the interest of the third term business. The Arkansas difficulties were another move in the same direction, and the following synopsis of a bill just adopted by the unanimous vote of the Republican Senators and Congressmen, is another and the boldest step yet taken toward perpetuating the reign of U. S. GRANT. We advise all to read this synopsis carefully: feb17

1.—Re-enactment of the fourth section of the Ku Klux Act, which allows the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in certain cases, and gives him full power to use an army to suppress disorder and maintain the peace.

2.—The appointment of Deputy U. S. Marshals and Supervisors of Elections, with full powers to conduct elections, count ballots, supervise returns and arrest persons who attempt to intimidate voters or unlawfully interfere with the conduct of elections.

3.—To provide for a full and fair registration of legal voters and make it unlawful for any reconstructed State to impose any poll tax, or to require the payment of such tax as a qualification for voting at any congressional election.

4.—Declaring the exhibition or use of deadly weapons on days of registration or election, for the purpose of intimidation or violence, a criminal offense, punishable with fine or imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

This means, if it means anything, to place the Southern States under military control—to declare that martial law has superseded civil rule—and thus secure the electoral vote of those States for GRANT. The bayonet shall supersede the ballot box and United States Marshals shall direct for whom ballots shall be cast and count the ballots. We repeat this is a bold move but it is a desperate case and can only be saved by a desperate remedy. The bayonet in the South and bribery and corruption in the North seems to be the weapons with which the President is determined to perpetuate his Presidency. Are the people to be defied and their will and wishes set at naught? feb17

Yesterday's Proceedings.

NEW YORK, February 10th.—After recess Tilton's cross-examination was resumed by Everts, who questioned him about the charge against him in interview with Bowen and Oliver Johnson about something that occurred at Northport, Minn., where he lectured. He remembered nothing of any such charge. Being asked in regard to the kiss given to him by Beecher at the Moulton's when the latter was sick, he said after any period of estrangement he and Beecher occasionally saluted each other with a kiss. It was a notable event when it happened. He didn't know how or when Beecher's so-called letter of contrition received that name. In his (witness') letter to Dr. Bacon he had called it that letter of apology. Witness was shown and identified the letter from Beecher to Tilton, which, as near as he could tell, was written in the Spring of '73. Everts read the letter telling Mr. T. H. (Beecher) was glad that Theodore had seen the dangerous pit which opened before them, and expressed his (Beecher's) sorrow for the great wrong done her. Witness stated that this letter referred to the Woodhull scandal. He was then asked in regard to statements he made to certain persons, none of which he could remember. He doesn't remember saying his wife was as pure as light, but said: "You wouldn't believe me; go to Beecher; he will tell you she is pure as gold." Witness said the true story was in existence in December, 1872, having been written by him about the last of that month. The tripartite covenant was not published. In the true story this paper, to the best of my knowledge, was destroyed, I think by Mrs. Tilton, but not by me or my desire. It is a long time since I last saw the paper in existence. I think it was about the Spring of 1873. I took this paper to several persons and left it with them for perusal. I showed it to Geo. A.

Bell, Wm. C. Dewitt, and I think Mr. Dunkley. He also showed it to several other persons. He did not show it to Dr. Storrs. He did not show it to James B. Mix, but showed him some loose sheets of the draft. Showed F. B. Carpenter the original manuscript. Didn't show it to Redpath. Neither showed it to or left it with Thomas Kinsella, nor remember showing it to Thomas C. Clarke. Didn't show it to Alderman Whitney, but did show him Beecher's letter of contrition; showed him the earlier draft of the paper matter which was the same as contained in the pamphlet to Dr. Storrs, and read to him the whole of it. He read the paper to Tracy in Moulton's study, between Christmas and New Year's, or a little later. Moulton wasn't present. The object of the defense in introducing the letter written by Tilton, directing that his child be brought from Mrs. Morse to his home, was to show that Mrs. T. had left her home and gone to reside with her mother, and that Tilton, during the absence of his wife from the house of Mrs. Morse, sent for and procured the child to induce Mrs. Tilton to return to her home. Adjourned. feb17

Opposition to Bishop DeKoven. CHICAGO, February 12th.—The opponents of Bishop DeKoven have prepared a memorial addressed to the standing committees of the several Dioceses of the Episcopal Church in the United States, giving reasons for their opposition to DeKoven, viz.: unbecomingly of his faith. His consecration would be disastrous to the churches, and he was not elected by the Convention of the Diocese of Illinois, agreeably to rules fixed by the Canons of that Diocese. feb17

Senatorial Contest in Minnesota. ST. PAUL, Minn., February 12th.—The Senatorial contest here assumed a new phase. Davis and Ramsey have both withdrawn. The Republicans are now free to vote for whom they choose. feb17

Foreign News. PARIS, February 11th.—The Assembly to-day took up the bill for the organization of the Senate amendment, providing that Senators be chosen by the same electors as the Deputies of the Lower Chamber. Adopted by the united votes of the Left and the Bonapartists. This makes the Senate dependent on universal suffrage. feb17

REPORTS CONCERNING OUTRAGES ON AMERICAN MISSIONARIES IN SYRIA were much exaggerated. The ill treatment by soldiers was pure invention. feb17

YUMA, February 12th.—A large amount of ore from Castle Dome was here to-day by the steamer Colorado for shipment to San Francisco. feb17

FLORENCE, A. T., February 12th.—A man, supposed to be one of the notorious Kansas murderers, Bender, was captured near Rattlesnake Hill by two men who had traced him through Western Texas and New Mexico. He will be taken to Silver City, New Mexico, for identification. feb17

MARTICOPA WELLS, February 11th.—A gold-bearing lode, discovered thirty miles east of here, is reported equal to or better than the old Culture mine, and easier of access. feb17

TUCSON, February 11th.—The Capital question is not yet decided. It is hoped that it will be to-day. feb17

THE SURVEYS WILL BE COMMENCED ON THE GUAYMAS AND TUCSON RAILROAD about the first of April. The enterprise is considered sure of success. feb17

Matters in Arkansas. LITTLE ROCK, February 12th.—The Grand Jury has been investigating charges made in a card published by one hundred and ninety-five ex-Federal soldiers, that a reign of terror existed in Arkansas, and that they carried their lives in their hands. The jury report that they have examined forty of the signers, none of whom could testify to any facts in support of their published allegations. The evidence showed that unusual quiet prevailed in the State. No evidence of the existence of a White League was obtained. feb17

OBITUARY. [The departure of Annie Belle, daughter of Thos. A. and Louisa J. Garey, who was born into the spirit world February 10, 1875, aged 5 years.] feb17

Gone from our gaze is another sweet mortal. Who bloomed but in fairness on earth while she stayed; Who took the lone path to Heaven's gay portal. feb17

From whose bright throng so many have strayed; Whom many have breathed with the highest of hopes. feb17

In moments of peace, when composed, Yet who not Satan was so formidable to cope, Else who but in dreams of above, they never had reposed. feb17

Thou hast gone to a land more fair, Annie Belle, To a realm of rest, in bright lands far above, Where the lost ones of earth their griefs never tell. feb17

In that beautiful world that's all sunshine and love, Where the angels when they see thee do live with oft sigh. feb17

Where the angels when they see thee do live with oft sigh. Where the angels when they see thee do live with oft sigh. feb17

And Death, the cold tyrant, had doomed her to die, And stole her away, in the prime of her youth. feb17

Yes, they'll weep, and their tears shall be shed, When they see what a treasure forever we've lost. feb17

For no more can we go to the cool, shady bowers Around which the light wings of zephyr have tossed. feb17

Yea a dirge thou hast cast o'er the lovely at home, That long will remain 'stead of love's young and brightness. feb17

And thy friends will mourn thee, wherever they roam, While grief will be deep when they think of thy brightness. feb17

SUNDAY.....FEB. 14, 1875.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The world renowned Bain Wagons at the Grange Store.

The Kalorama arrived yesterday morning with sixty tons of freight.

The San Diegos are still complaining about the non-arrival of mails.

Downey shipped 716 sacks of corn Friday.

The Senator sailed to Anaheim last night. She will leave for San Francisco to-day.

One hundred and ninety boxes of oranges were shipped from the depot yesterday.

The celebrated Dupee uncanvassed hams can be bought at the Grange Store.

Twenty large teams were camped at Spadra Friday night, awaiting loads for Panamint.

The Mohongo will arrive at San Pedro to-morrow from San Francisco. She takes the place of the Orizaba this trip.

The drawing of the Grand Jury, set for yesterday in the County Court, was postponed until to-morrow at 9 A. M.

Williams & Smith, at the Cottage photograph Gallery, corner Spring and First streets, take the best pictures in the city.

There will be a stated meeting of Pentalpha Lodge No. 202, F. & A. M. at Masonic Hall to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock.

The Sunday dinners of the St. Charles Restaurant are becoming popular. Many families who desire a good dinner without the trouble of cooking, now go to the St. Charles on Sunday.

The books of the Centinela Land Company will be closed at noon on Monday next, 15th instant. Parties wishing stock must apply before that hour.

The monthly temperance meeting under the auspices of the good Templars, will take place at Templar Hall this evening. Rev. Mr. Rich, of Murphysville, will deliver the lecture.

The funeral of J. C. Allen, who died Thursday, took place yesterday from Good Templars' Hall under the auspices of Shomoinac Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men.

We are not so certain that to-day will not be observed as St. Valentine's day. Cupid is used to doing double duty on Sunday, and he will hardly forsake his post when the 14th of February and Sunday come together.

We were wrong yesterday in stating that a decree of divorce had been granted by the District Court in the case of Clement vs. Clement. The case related to the partition of real estate of the heirs of Michael Clement deceased.

Mr. Davis, of the Alden works, has received by the Senator a very large assortment of evergreens, flowering shrubs and hanging baskets, for windows. The evergreens are of the very choicest kind, and will adorn any place. He has also received an assortment of roses in pots, in full bloom.

Stockholders in the Centinela Land Company will be provided with conveyances to the rancho during the sale by apply at the office, No. 8 Temple Block, for tickets. Arrangements have been made with the livery stable keepers to take all others out for $1.50 each. This includes passage and return.

Workmen were engaged in laying down a sidewalk in front of Ducommun's building, on Commercial street, yesterday. A layer of brick was placed upon a bed of sand and this covered with asphaltum, mixed with gravel. By this means a walk was made smooth and compact, which, we should judge, ought to last a century.

And now it proves to be all a mistake, as shown by the following from the Anaheim Gazette: "An item in the Los Angeles Express to the effect that a Mrs. Swilson, of Anaheim, had given birth to triplets on the 3d, is not borne out by the facts. The result of our reporter's inquiries discloses, (1st) that Mrs. Swilson don't expect any little angels for some time; 2d, that Mrs. Swilson is a respectable widow; 3d, that no lady by the name of Swilson resides in Anaheim.

Grange Meetings. After this date Los Angeles Grange will meet every Saturday at 2 P. M. The subject for discussion on next Saturday is "Taxation." A full attendance is desired.

S. A. WALDRON, Sec.

"Caste." Vivian's company gave their fifth performance at Turn-Verein Hall last evening, producing the popular comedy, "Caste." The audience was the largest which has assembled since the opening of the engagement. Mr. Vivian assumed the role of Captain Hartley, with Mr. Robinson as Eccles, Miss Cummins as Polly Eccles and Miss Reiffarth as Esther. The sharp contrasts of sentiment and burlesque which are so intermingled throughout the play and which, from its chief attraction were finely brought out. Miss Reiffarth strengthened her already well established claim upon popular favor by the superior manner in which she performed her part. Though brilliant in lighter characters, and always a favorite in whatever role she assumes, we still believe that her forte lies in presenting the sober side of the picture and bringing out its touches of pathos. Miss Cummins as the sprightly off-hand, good-hearted Polly, was a complete success. Mr. Robinson could not have personated the drunken farmer better had he been brimful of Kentucky Bourbon. The play throughout kept up a continual round of applause and merriment. In consequence of their immense success, the company have concluded to prolong their engagement, and to-morrow evening will present another new programme, comprising the comedy, "Pinto and the Duke," and the farce entitled "Omni-bus." Vivian's popular songs and character sketches will still remain a prominent part of the programme.

The sale of the Centinela Colony lands (commence to-morrow, on the premises. The indications are that the bidding will be lively and the sales large. A great many shares of the stock have been sold, and the books will positively close to-morrow. Since last Thursday morning not less than 800 men have visited the rancho and after examining the lands all speak in the highest terms of its soil and location.

Resolutions of Condolence.

The following resolutions were passed by Los Angeles Grange, No. 36, at its session yesterday:

WHEREAS, The members of this Grange have heard, with deep regret, the recent bereavement of our Worthy Master and sister Gary in the loss of their youngest and darling child; therefore

Resolved, That Brother and Sister Gary and the sorrowing members of their family have the sympathy and condolence of this Grange.

S. A. WALDRON, Secretary.

City School Superintendents.

The last report of the Massachusetts Board of Education says: "By trial it has been proven that whenever a town or city is provided with a good superintendent of schools, in that town or city the best schools exist. A superintendent is able to make his school a personal study, and intelligently to direct them in the modes of teaching to appreciate their deficiencies and supply their wants."

Resolutions.

HALL OF MILLER LODGE, No. 268, F. & A. M., Clark's Hill, Ind. January 23d, A. L. 5875, A. D. 1875.

WHEREAS, We have learned that Bro. Wm. V. Rinehart having accidentally met Bro. J. E. Loveless in Lower California, and finding him in a condition that required great care and attention, took him to his home, gave him a brother's kind care and more than ordinary considerate attention, which was continued not only while our brother lived, but after his death he was tendered our worthy Bro. Wm. Rinehart, for his kindness to our deceased Bro. E. J. Loveless.

Resolved, That in his treatment of Bro. Loveless he has exemplified the principles of our institution in an eminent degree, and has reflected credit upon himself, upon humanity, and upon our order.

Resolved, That Bro. Rinehart be requested to return our thanks to the other members of our order who assisted him in attending to our brother and his wife.

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to notify Bro. Rinehart of this action of the Lodge.

Neighborhood Items.

We clip the following from the San Bernardino Guardian and Argus:

Two hundred white men and one hundred negroes, five Chinese men are at work on the Spadra extension.

Almost all the farmers in the valley are busy engaged in sowing grain, and are not anxious for any more rain at present.

We regret to say that Mr. Gould, of the Argus returned from Los Angeles seriously indisposed. A severe cold, we believe is the trouble.

The examination of Rr. Rene for assault with attempt to commit murder, was concluded yesterday. Judge Wagner holding the Doctor to answer on a charge of misdemeanor, merely drawing firearms in a threatening manner. The testimony in the case was very conflicting on some points.

Some hoodlums were taken in charge by the Marshal, night before last for firing off pistols on the streets, they swore they didn't shoot, but are still held for further evidence in regard to the matter. The firing of pistols on the streets at night has become quite common, and parties who are hereafter found guilty of the offense will suffer the severest penalty of the law.
